

FRENCH BAKERY SALES ANALYSIS

Product Performance, Sales Trends & Customer Behavior

BY LINSEY HERMAN

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

KEY FINDINGS

- COUPE bread = high volume traffic driver (6.3% units, only 0.6% revenue)
- Baguettes = core product (high volume & revenue anchor)
- Sales peak = late mornings (9–12), esp. Sundays at 11:00
- Seasonal spikes: January, December, and summer months

BUSINESS RECOMMENDATIONS

01

Bundle traffic drivers (COUPE) with premium products

02

Anchor promotions around baguettes

03

Optimize staffing & inventory for late mornings & holidays

04

Formalize natural product pairings

Baguette dominates both volume and revenue

Most Revenue Menu Items

Top 20 Products by Quantity Sold

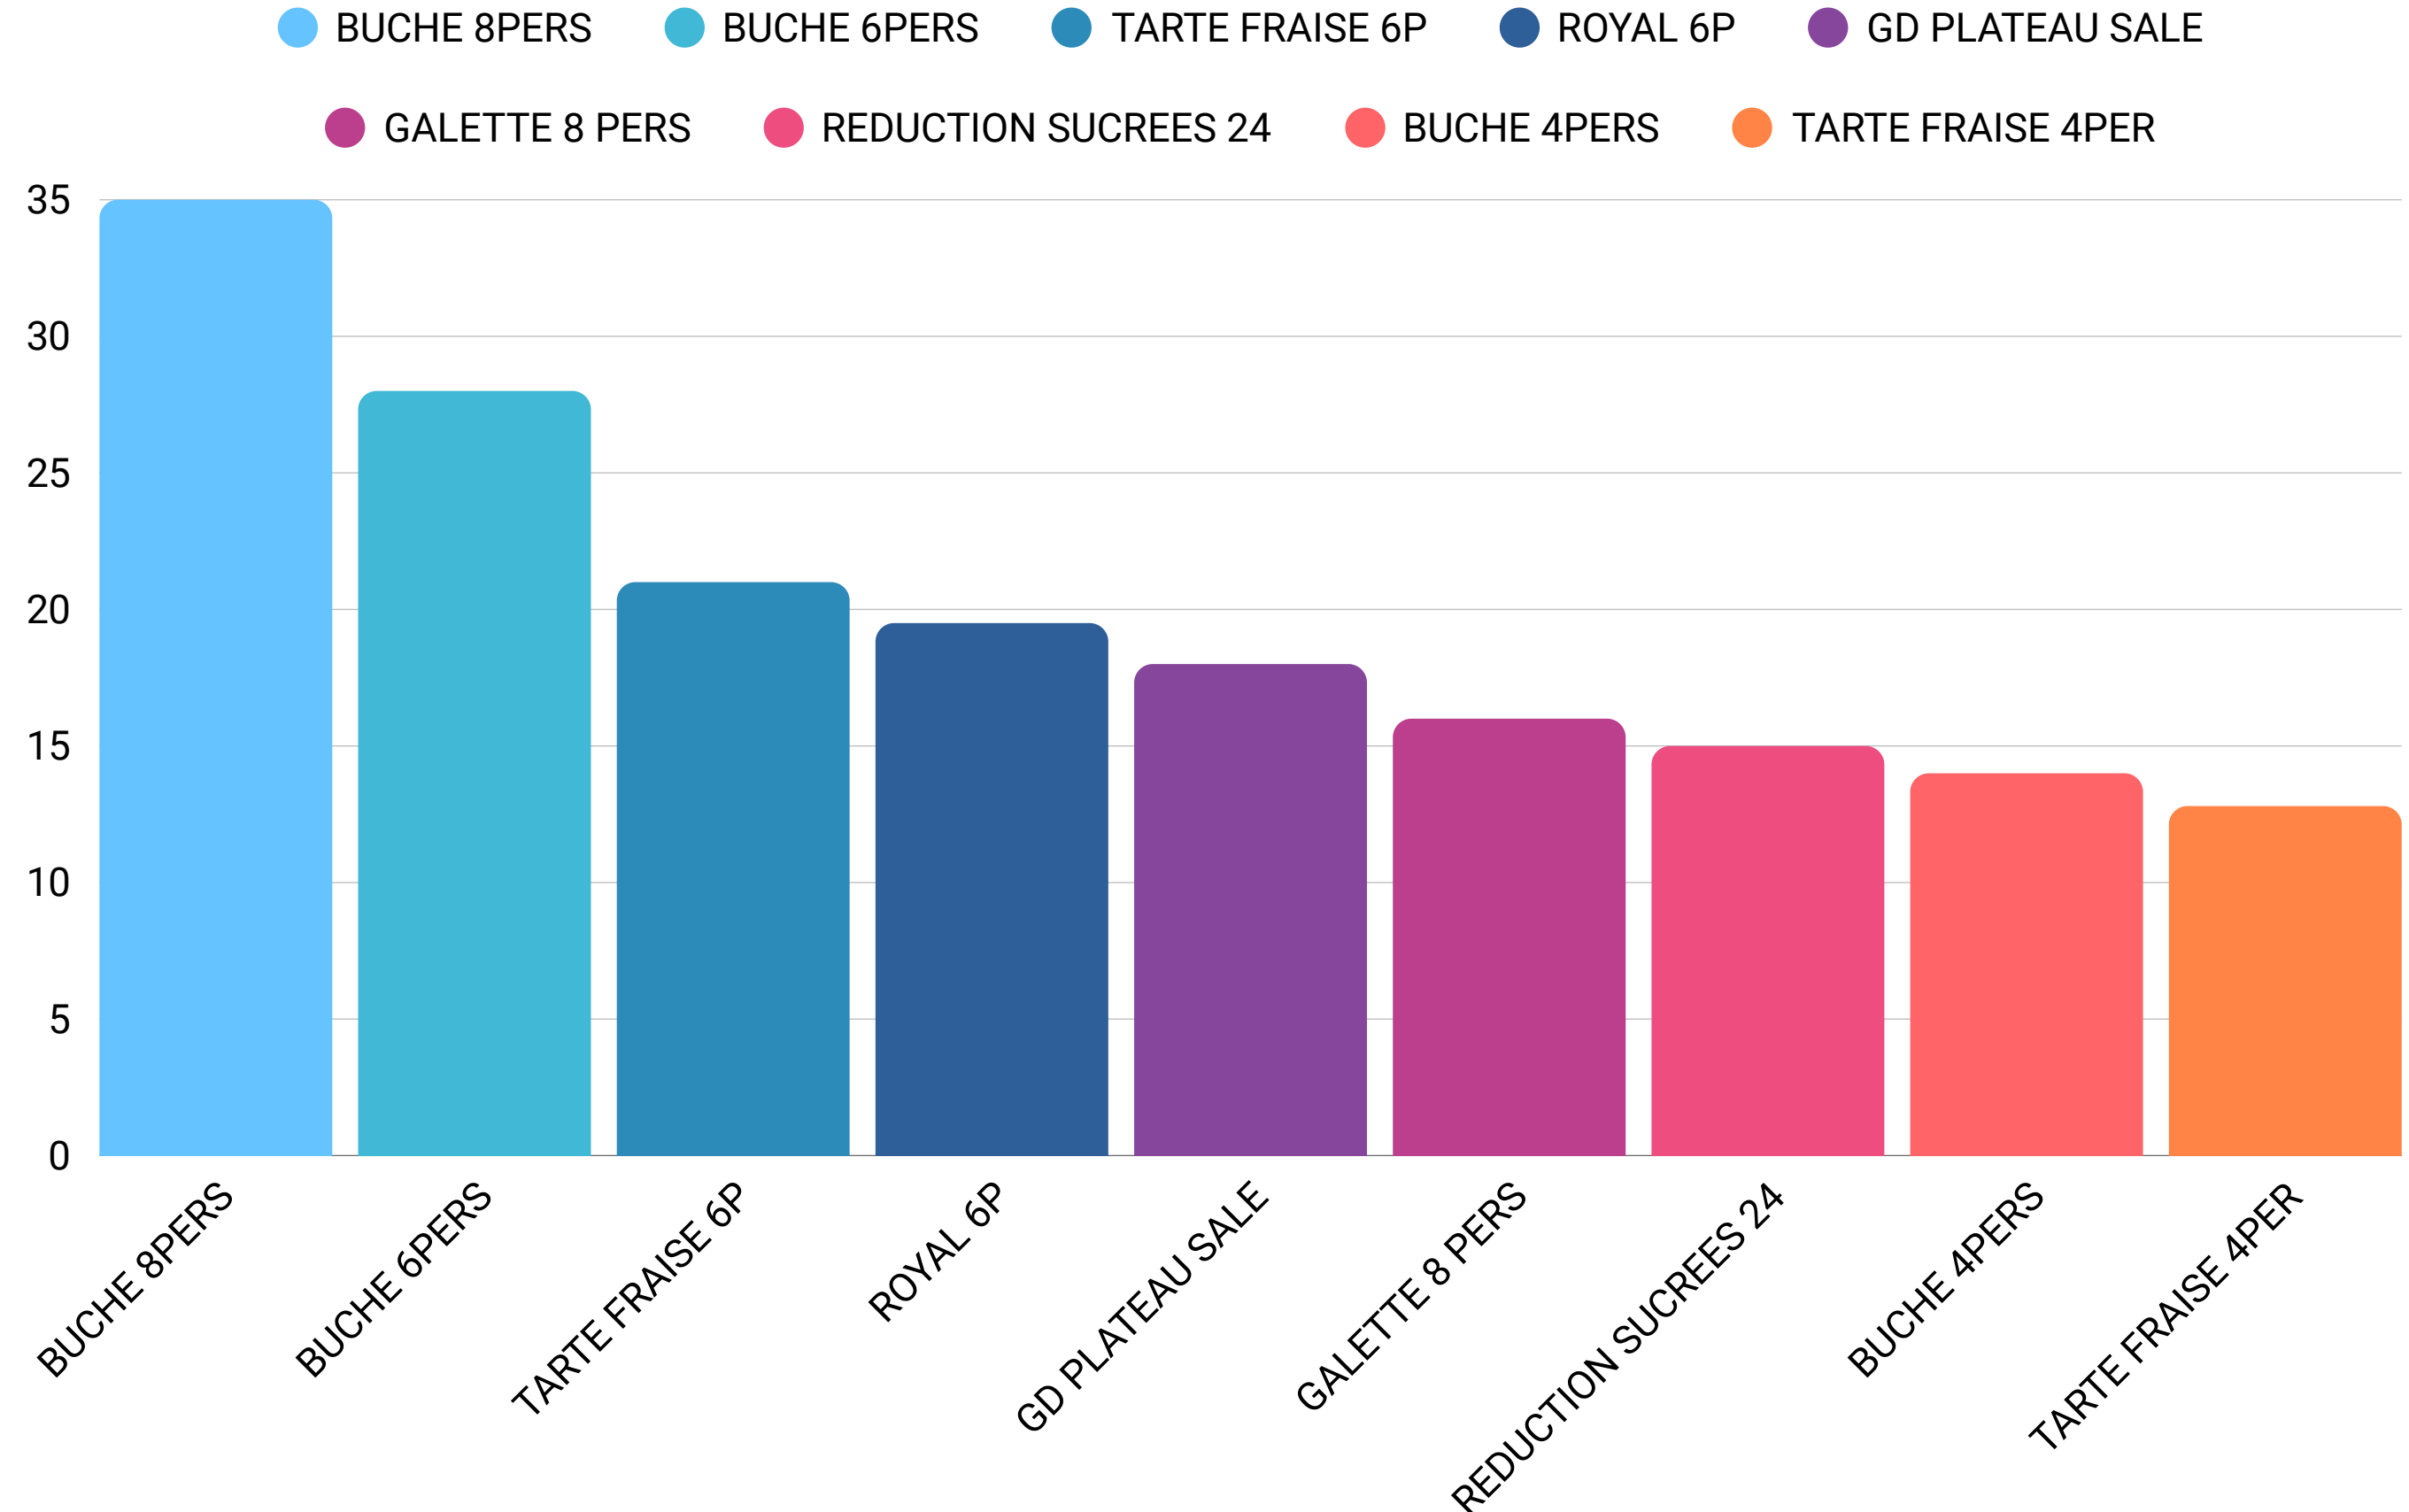

Takeaway:

- COUPE = traffic driver (22K sold, only €3.4K revenue)
- Baguette = core product (22K sold, €20.5K revenue)
- Strategy: Protect baguette margins, Bundle COUPE with high-value items to lift average transaction value.

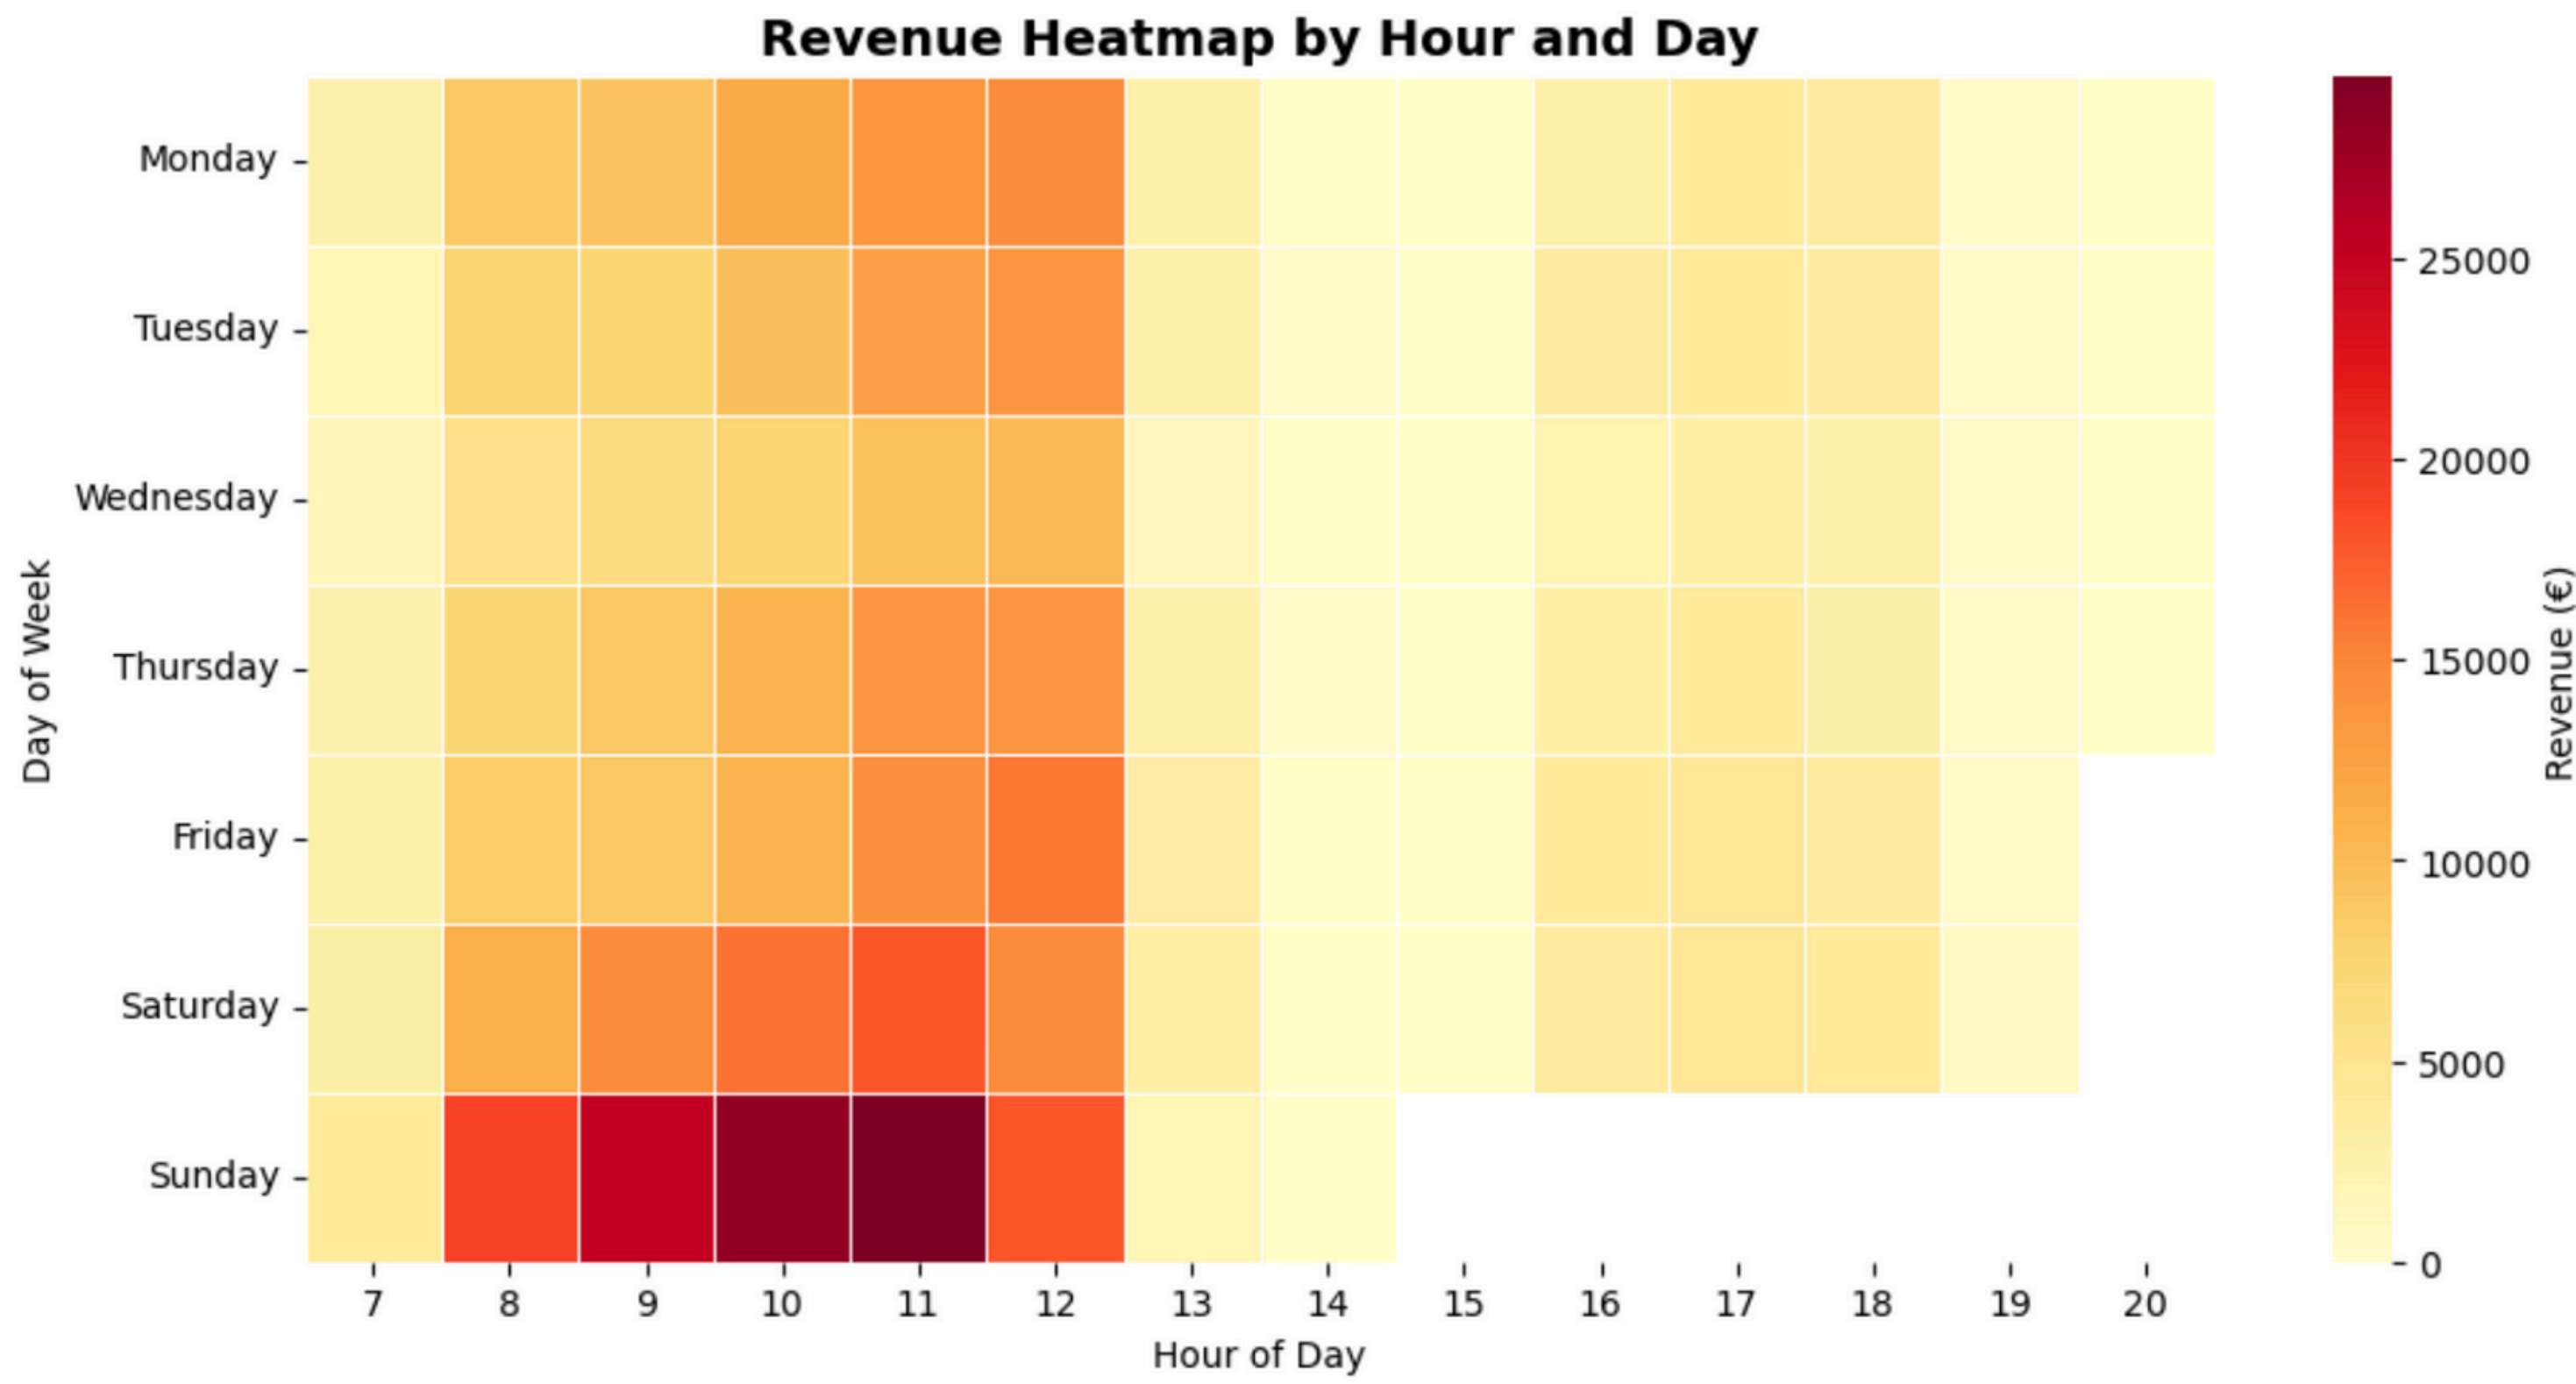

Premium pastries and cakes higher revenue

Takeaway:

- Top 10 items by revenue per unit are specialty pastries and cakes (e.g., TARTE FRAISE, BÛCHE).
- For comparison:
 - COUPE → €0.15 per sale
 - Baguette → ~€0.90 per sale
- Strategy: upsell pastries alongside core bread products

Late mornings, especially weekends, are peak revenue periods

Takeaway:

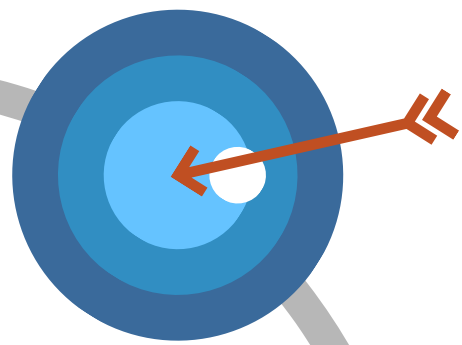

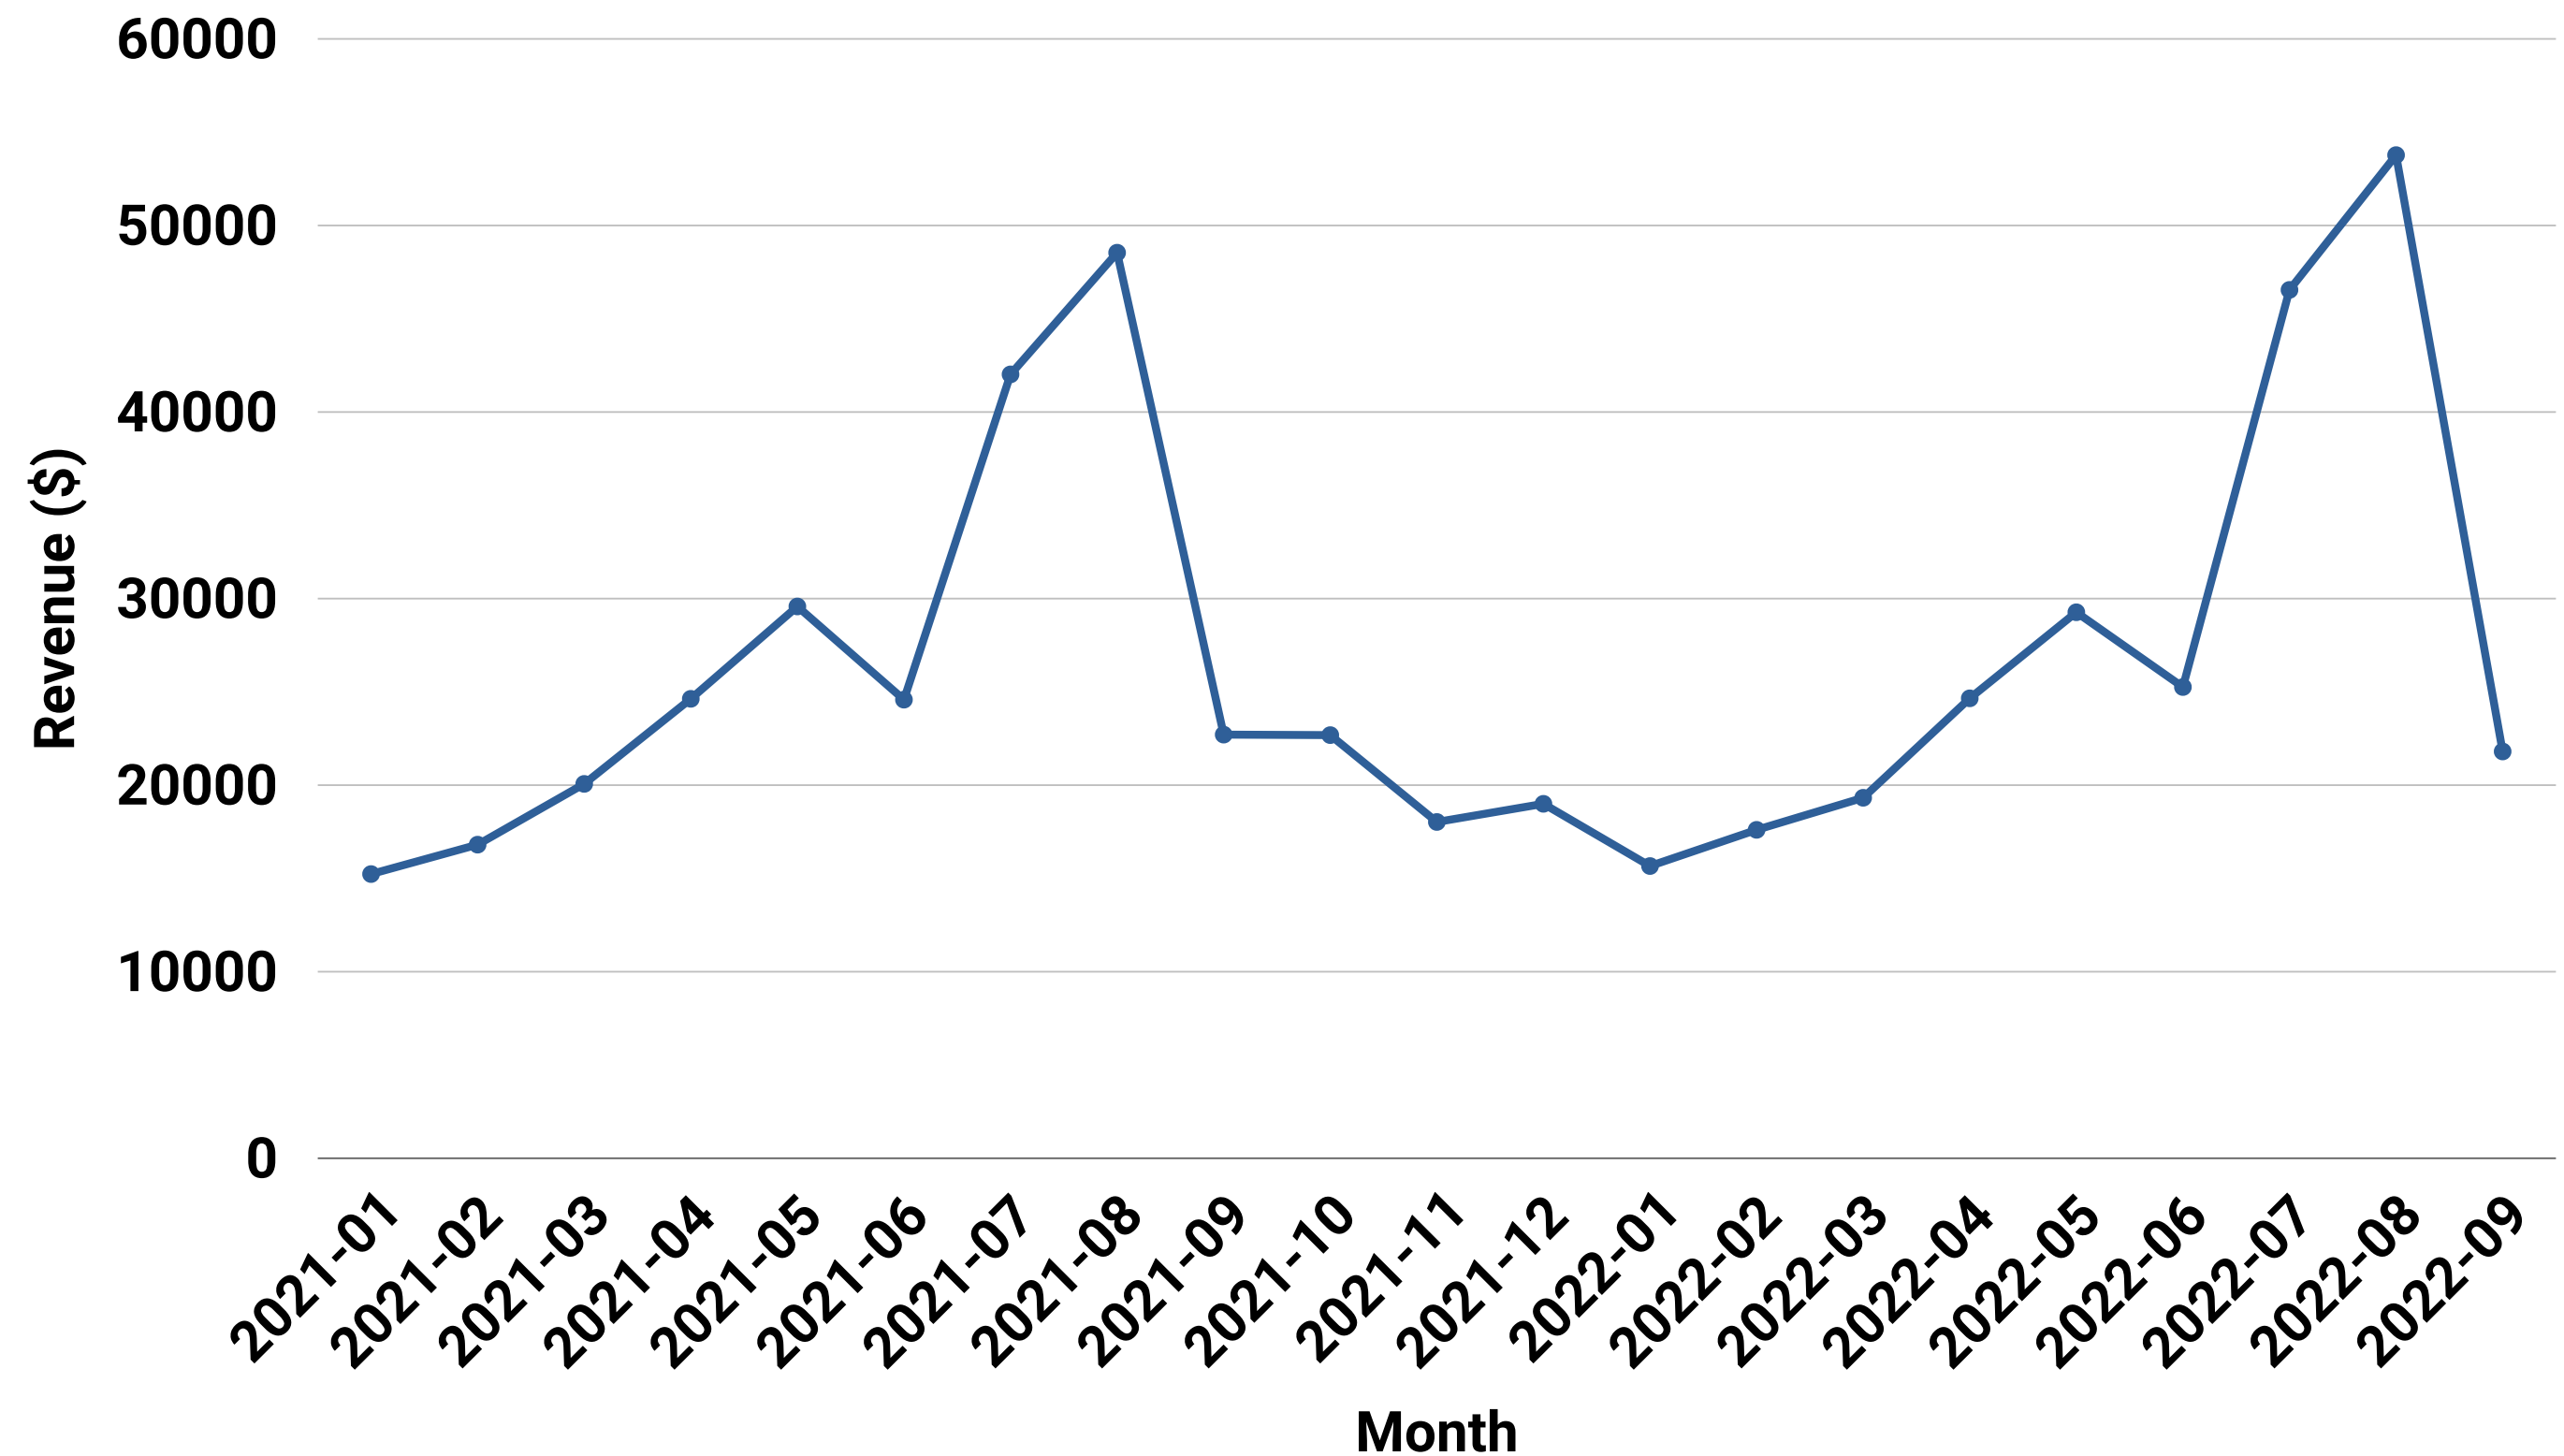

- Sales peak 9–12 am (strongest on Sundays 11:00 = €29.6K)
- Strategy: add staff & oven capacity during weekend mornings

Sales surge during summer months

Monthly Revenue Trend

Takeaway:

- The summer months (July–August) are the top-performing period, with revenue ranging from €88K to € 102 K.
- Strategy: Increase staff & oven capacity during 9–12 a.m. weekends. Offer morning bundle deals (Baguette + Pastry + Coffee).

Customers naturally bundle similar items

Product Pair Network (Top 10)

01

COUPE + Baguette =
6,000+ transactions

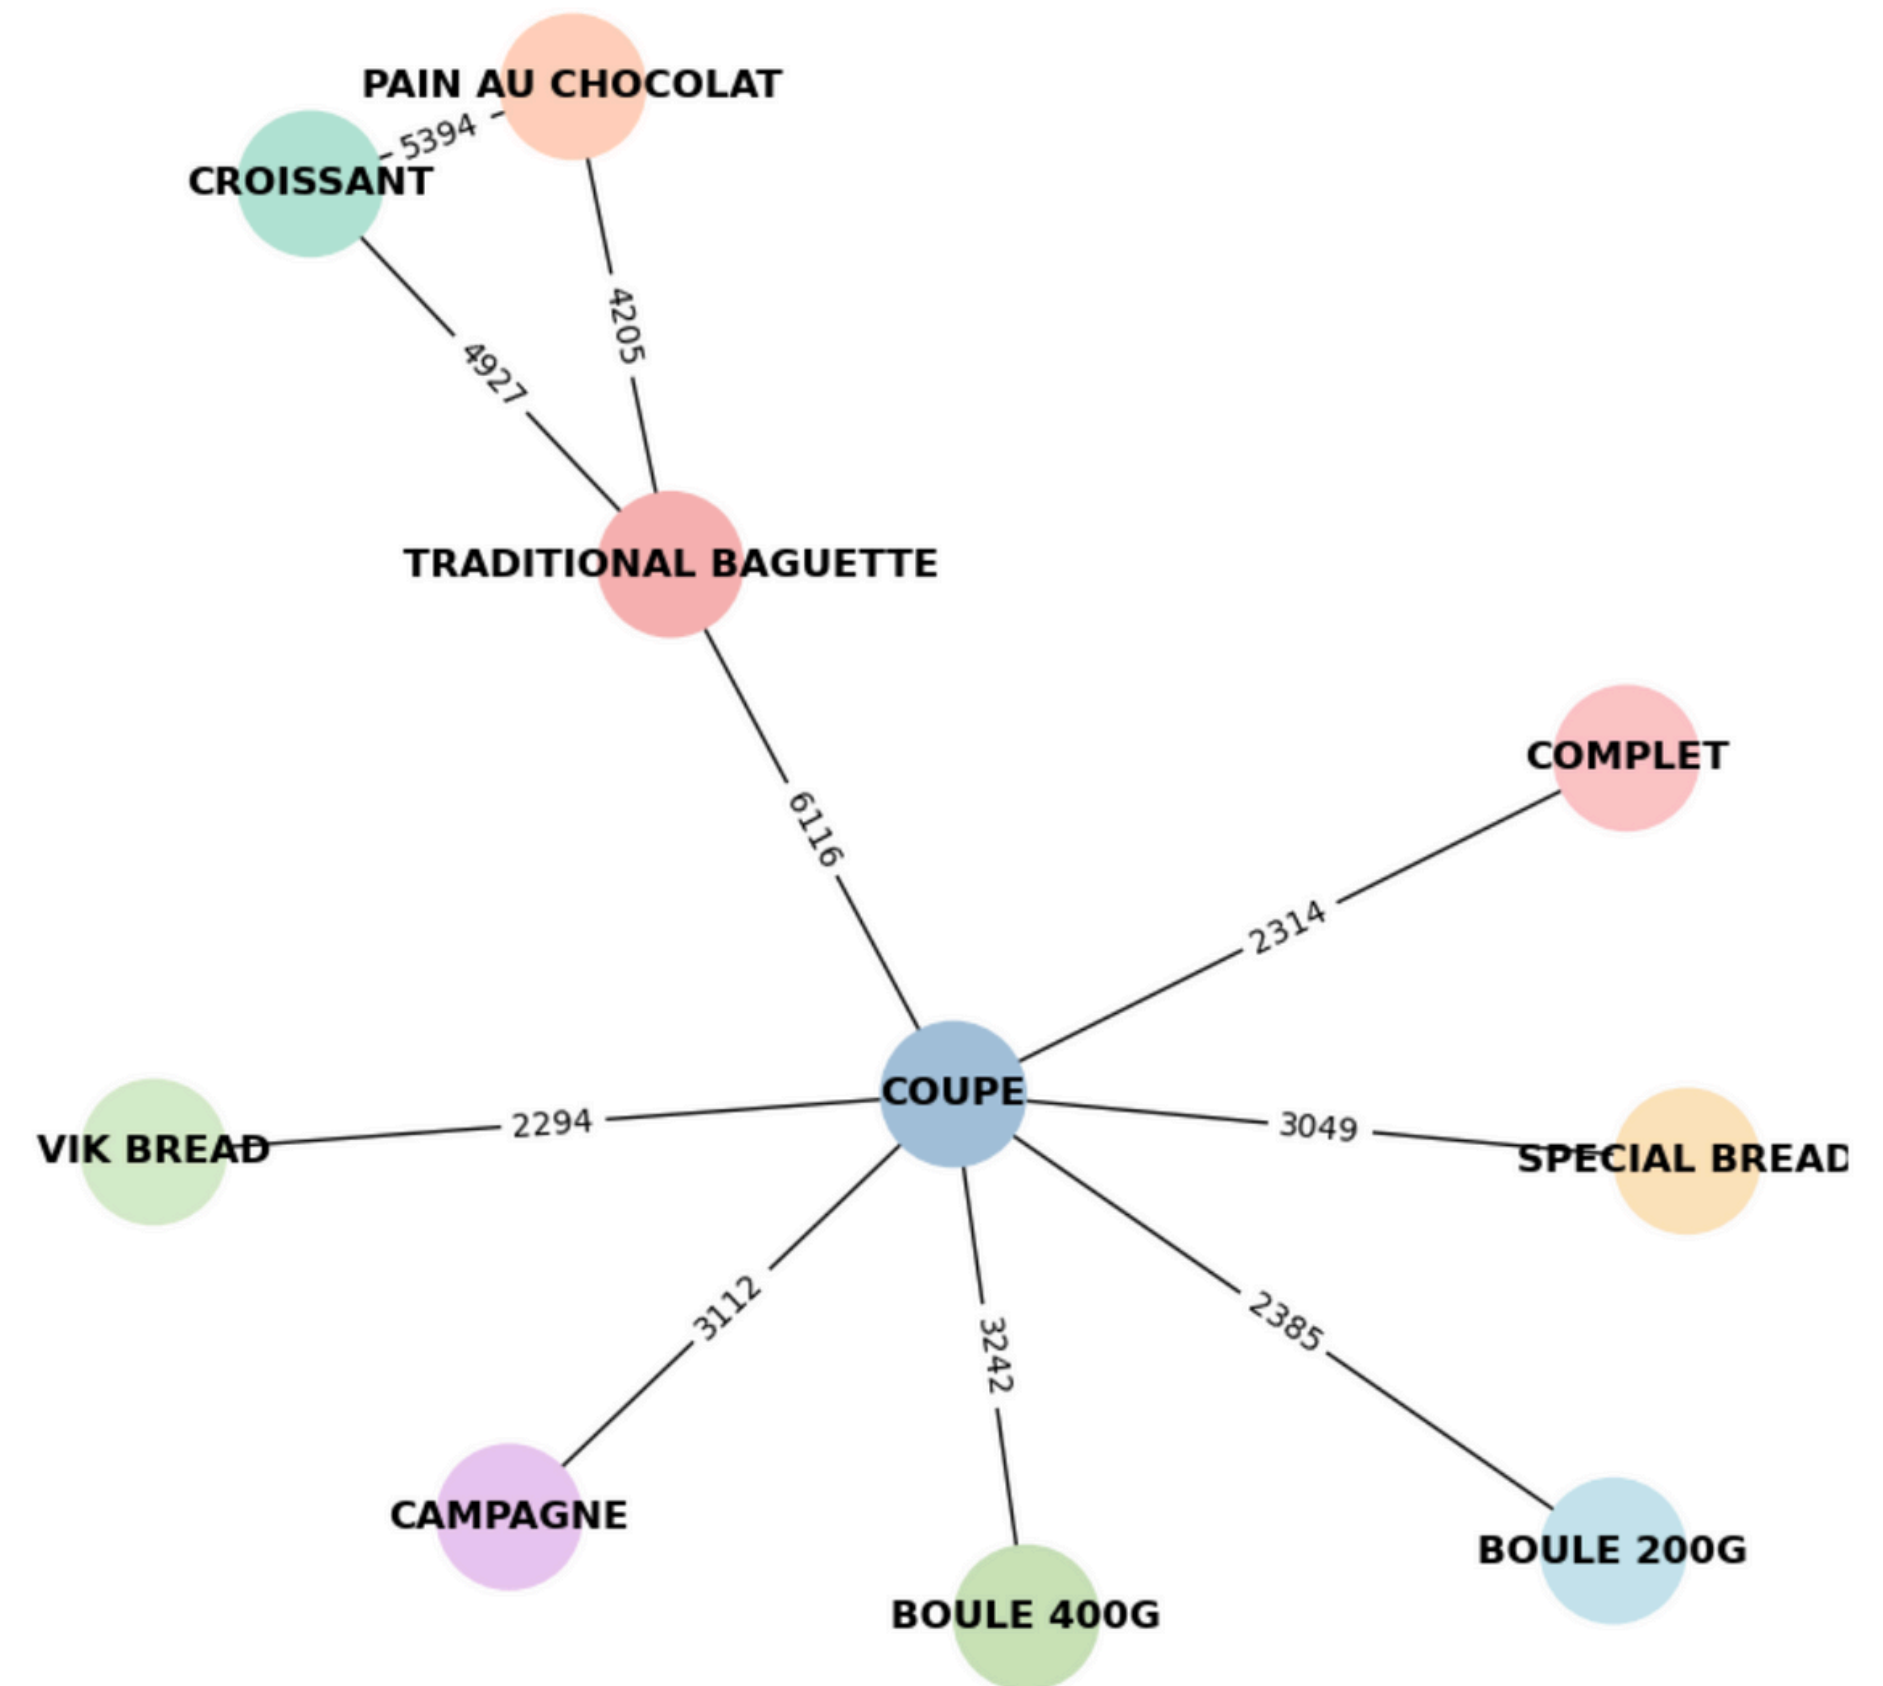

02

Croissant + Pain au Chocolat
= 5,000+ transactions

03

Bread/pastry bundles are already occurring organically

Strategy: Create formal bundles ("Bread Duo," "Breakfast Pair") to increase average transaction value.
